

Effective Monday, June 16, 2008 there will be a new link in order to access the online exams. NAAEI strongly encourages you or one of your staff to attend one of the free Webinars to ensure a smooth transition to the new testing system. This new testing system will be easier to use and provide your designation candidates with better customer service and technical support. Whether you offer regular courses or are thinking of offering a course in the future, make time to register for one of the Webinars. Please note that the old link to the online exams will be disabled and replaced with a new one. Additionally, updated copies of the Candidate Handbook and Administrator Guides, with updated instructions for the new system, will be posted on our Web site on Monday, June 16. If you would like an advance copy of the administrator's guide and the new instructions before June 16, contact Julie Barden.
