The Capital City Apartment Association
is on a mission . . .

To promote, inform, and serve the apartment industry through education, legislation, and professional networking.

One Membership . . . Three Associations:

The Capital City Apartment Association

The Florida Apartment Association

The National Apartment Association

We Can Help You!

We're the Legislative Watchdogs

There is strength in numbers. We provide legislative representation on the local, state, and national level, and we're the watchdogs on the regulatory front. We tackle the tough issues that would be impossible for you to handle on your own:

- Bankruptcy Reform
- Maintenance Licensing
- Landlord Tenant Law
- Environmental Issues

Whatever the issues for the 21st Century are . . . You can be assured we'll be right there for you and we'll keep you informed.

Learn . . . Grow . . . Succeed

CCAA has the resources and tools you need to grow as a professional, excel in your career, and improve your community. CCAA provides nationally recognized educational programs providing you with the credentials most companies will soon require. Need to brush up your skills or update your knowledge? CCAA offers a wide array of workshops and seminars to keep you abreast of important advancements in leasing, fair housing, marketing, maintenance, technology, and more.

Where's the Fun?

The welfare of the multifamily industry is our priority, but it's not all work and no play. Join us and share in networking opportunities like dinner meetings, social gatherings, tradeshow, and fundraising events.
